HELD IN THE ENGLISH CHURCH IN PARIS.

A DISTINGUISHED GATHERING AT THE SERVICES -THE AMBASSADOR'S BODY TAKEN TO

ENGLAND FOR BURIAL. Paris, Nov. 28.-The funeral of the Right Hon. Edward Bulwer Lytton, Earl of Lytton, the British Ambassador at Paris, who died suddenly in this city on Tuesday, took place to-day in the English Church. The edifice was crowded in every part, and hundreds of persons were unable to gain entrance. Among those present, besides the family of the dead statesman and author, were many of his personal friends, all the members of the Diplomatic Corps at present in Paris, and a large number of the memof the French Senate.

The Hon. Whitelaw Reid, the American Minister to France, sent a beautiful wreath, which was placed Mr. Reid was present at the All the Ministers of State were upon the coffin, funeral services. All the Ministers of State were also present. President Carnot was represented by Prominent among the mourning General Brugere. Prominent among the mourning assemblage were Princess Mathilde and the Prince of Many members of the English aristocracy, some of whom are staying in Paris, while others came from England for the special purpose, attended the services in the church. Among the prominent Frenchmen present were M. Francoise Coppee, the poet and the Academy; M. Benoit Coquelin, the notor; M. Jules Massenet, the musician and composer; M. Emile Carolus-Duran, the painter, and M. Alexandre Dumas.

The French painter M. Leon Bonuat has just inished a portrait of the Earl, and this picture was placed upon an easel which stood at the head of the coffin as it lay in the church.

The service was fully choral. The chief mourner were the Countess of Lytion, widow of the Earl, and their five children-Viscount Knebworth, who succeeds to the Earldom; the Hon. Neville Stephen, the Hon. Elizabeth Edith, the Hon. Constance Georgiana and the Hon. Emily.

After the services at the church the body was conveved to the rallway station on its way to England. where the burial will take place. The route followed by the funeral procession from the church to the rail-way station was lined by 3,500 treeps, who had been detailed for this duty by the French Government, When the station was reached the coffin was removed from the hearse and placed upon a temporary stand. The troops, who until then had stood on each side of the streets through which the funeral procession had passed, fell into rank and defiled past the coffin. Five thousand persons have called at the British Embassy and have inscribed their names there as a mark of respect to the dead Ambassador. The funeral of Lord Lytton in this city has seldom been equalled by that of any other foreign official. On all sides the greatest respect for his memory has been shown. DECREASED CONSERVATIVE MAJORITY.

RESULT OF THE BYE-ELECTION IN THE EASTERN

DIVISION OF DORSET. London, Nov. 28 .- The election in the Division of Dorset, to fill the vacancy in the House of Commons caused by the death of George Hawkesworth Bond (Conservative), was held yesterday, and resulted in the return of the candidate of the Conservatives Humphrey Sturt, son of Lord Alington. The Gladstonian candidate was Pascoe Glyn, who represented the division from November, 1885, until the general election of the following summer, when he was defeated by Mr. Bond. The vote polled yesterday was heavier than that at the preceding election, and the figures show a gain for both parties, though the Gladstonians had the better of the increase. Compared with the returns of the last election, the Gladstonians, though defeated yesterday, show a gain of 412 votes, while the Conservative increase was only 104 votes. The result of yesterday's election was as follows:

At the last election the vote stood: George R. Bond (Conservative) East-op Glyn (Cloudstonian) Bon t's majority It will thus be seen that the Gladstonians succeeded in reducing the previous majority of the Conservatives by 308 votes. Mr. Sturt was a candidate for Parliament for Christchurch, and, when pressed to contest the East Dorset Division, he stated to the Conservative Committee that he would do so only on the distinct understanding that he would still remain the candidate for and would contest Christchurch, at the general election or upon any vacancy occurring there.

BRITISH COAL MINERS LIKELY TO STRIKE. London, Nov. 28 .- It is probable that the action taken to-day by coal mine owners in South Wales and Monmouthshire will tend to precipitate a strike of the miners in those regions. The laborers are at present paid on a sliding scale, prepared by representatives of the mine-owners and of the men. The mine-owners have taken the ground that the agreement at present in force bears unfairly upon them, and to-day they annonneed that next month they would abolish the sliding od would thencefortr engage their men ind vidually. This announcement affects 70,000 men in the coal districts mentioned. It is believed that they will make a bitter fight against the decision of the mine-owners, which is practically an announcement that wages will be reduced.

The scaports meant in the words "from port to part" are Plymouth and Cherbourg, or such other places a may be agreed upon. The Canadian port of call in mer will be Quebec; and in winter, Halifax, Halifar and St. John. The vessels must be at least 500 tons, equipped and finished in the most modern style. collision in the Mersey to-day with the White Star Line steam'r Tauric, Captain Roberts, which was to sail to day for New-York. The bows of the Baltimore were damaged. The Tauric also sustain'd some injury. It has been learned that the coasting steamer that in collision with the bark Harmonie yesterday was the Helen Craig, bound from Garston for Belfirst. The report that the steamer had sunk and that all on board of her were lost proves to have been unfounded, and probably arose from the sudden disappearance of the steamer in the safe, though seriously damaged. GERMAN COMMENTS ON VON CAPRIVI'S SPEECH.

Berlin, Nov. 28 .- Many of the newspapers to day contain long articles on the speech delivered by Chancellor von Caprivi in the Reichstag yesterday, in the course of which, after referring to the relations between France and Russia and Germany and Russia, and the universal desire for peace, has pointed sig nificantly to the efficiency of the German army. The North German Gazette," the organ of the Government, says that the Chancellor's speech will have a wincing effect upon Parliament, and that it will e a still more marked impression abroad, as showing how little are justified the pessimistic sentiments which have lately been manifested. The "Gazette declares that the speech will give a powerful impulse to confidence in the general position of international affairs, and will stimulate prosperity in Germany. The "Vossiche Zeitung" publishes an article written in a similar strain. It declares that the effect of the Chancellor's words will be to dissipate any anxiety that may have been felt regarding Germany's military or economic relations. The Nation, it says, will cheerfully support every step taken by the monarch of the Government which is calculated to

WHY MILAN GAVE UP HIS RIGHTS IN SERVIA. Paris, Nov. 28.—Many stories are told in relation to the recent renunciation by ex-King Milan of all his logal rights in Servia and of his office in the Servia army; but it is a question whether any one of these stories contains more than a grain of truth. newspaper "La Paix" to-day has a story which if true shows that there was no foundation for the rumors that the reason for the ex-King's action was his desire to be free from the cares of State, and to be able to spend his time in Paris. By the erms of his abdication in favor of his son Alexander it was provided that in case of the death of King Alexander Milan would return as King of Servia. By the renunciption of his legal rights in Servia upon the payment to him of a lump sum of money, Milan gave up all claim to "La Paix's" story has it that the Shah

THE LONDON MUSICAL SEASON. "IVANHOE" A FAILURE AND WITHDRAWN-DRA-MATIC AND LITERARY NOTES. London, Nov. 28 .- While grand opera at the Covent Garden and Shaftesbury theatres has taken on a new lease of life, and while comic opera, too, is flourishing, the attempt of Manager D'Oyly Carte to establish genuine National opera at the Royal English Opera House has resulted in failure. His production of Sir Arthur Sullivan's "Ivanhoe," of which much was expected, involved him in a loss of over £25,000. The opera was produced in conjunction with "La Basoche" at first, but Mr. Carte was compelled suddenly to withdraw Sir Arthur's work and to break his engage ments with the artists he had employed. The singers and others who were to appear in "Ivanhoe" were also heavy losers. This ill-success is attributed to the necessity of having a double cast of firstrate artists. Hopes were entertained that "La Basoche" would recoup the losses, but carly this week a notice was posted announcing that the theatre would close to-night for an indefinite period. Mr. Carte is now negotiating with the artists to secure their services at reduced salaries. If he succeeds in this the theatre will probably reopen. It is rumored that a majority of the artists are willing to accept less money than they have been getting. Edward Compton, manager of the Opera Comique, has announced the last days of Henry James's play "The American."

Sir Charles Halle, the planist, has again tried his fortune with the Manchester band. Though he had the patronage of the Prince and Princess of Wales, and though the programme included the names of such artists as Sarasate, Ysaye, Stavenhagen and Popper, the audience was small.

Charlotte Walker has made her debut in London. She was highly successful in her part.

After Signor Lago's company at Windsor Castle en Thursday had played "Cavalleria Rusticana," each of the principal artists was presented to the Queen. All received a piece of jewelry from the Queen as a souvenir of the performance. Her Majesty xpressed her appreciation of the opera.

The Gilbert-Cellier opera is in active rehearsal at the Lyric Theatre, and will be produced at Christmas. Mr. Gilbert is also collaborating with George Grossmith for the production of a musical comedy at the Prince of Wales's Theatre.

W. II. Pennington, the tragedian, one of the im mortal "Six Hundred" who made the charge at Balaclava, will give his farewell performance on December 10, when he will appear in the second scene of the first act of "Richellen."

Beerbohm Tree will lecture in St. James's Hall to-morrow night on the subject of "Certain Fallacles Regarding the Drama." The lecture is given at the invitation of the Playgeers' Club. It is understood that the chief theme of this lecture will be the play of Maurice Maeterlinck, the Belgian playwright. A. Gwyllyn Crowe, who formerly conducted the orchestra at the Covent Garden promenade concerts, is composing the music for a comic opera in three acts. The plot is a mediaeval one.

After Christmas it is the intention of Sir Augustus Harris, manager of the Covent Garden Theatre, to give a series of elaborate balls in that building. orchestra will be placed on an elevated platform. The seats will be floored over on a level with the stage, and the ballroom will extend the full length of the theatre.

A bronze medal portrait of Henry Irving has been executed by Rochelle Thomas. The work is prononnced excellent by experts. It is said that only 250 copies will be struck off.

A committee has been formed at Rome, of which Signor Cavallotti, Mr. Swinburne, Mr. Gladstone, Signor Amici, Signor Bonghi and Signor Menotti Garibaldi are members, for the purpose of erecting a monument to Percy Bysshe Shelley. The monument will be built at Viareggio, Italy, on the Mediterranean, where the body of the poet was cast ashore by the sea after his death by drowning.

Mrs. Oliphant is engaged on her history of the Holy Land, which is now rapidly approaching completion. In collecting the material for her book Mrs. Oliphant travelled over the whole of Palestine accompanied by her sons. The work will be illustrated with sketches by Hamilton Aide. One of Mrs. Oliphant's sons is in delicate health and she will soon leave her English home for the Riviera, where she will probably remain for some time.

Some are of great historical interest, including a wast number of the letters of King Henry VIII to the Vatican, and also many from Queen Elizabeth. The Pope desired to purchase all the manuscripts in the celebrated Borghese collection, but the Pritish Museum and the Berlin Museum obtained many of them.

Sir Frederick Leighton, president of the Royal Institute of Painters in Water Colors, are busy in relecting pictures to form a representative collection of British madern paintings, which will be sent to the Chicago Columbian Exhibition.

M. Loselle, the tenor, has signed a contract with M. Bertrand, the new manager of the Paris Opera House, to sing there after his tour in the United States.

MR. BALFOUR ON THE IRISH QUESTION. Edinburgh, Nov. 28 .- Mr. Balfour attended a Conservative meeting here to-day, and made an address which was enthusiastically received. In the course of his remarks, referring to Ireland, he said he believed that Great Britain would never again see a gigantic agrarian conspircay, fed by American funds, raise its head in Ireland. He did not believe that again would be seen anything like the obstruction and defiance fermerly thrown into the teeth of the British Parliament by a few Irish representatives. Mr. Balfour added that he hoped the country had at last succes fully emerged from its greatest difficulties. All that Ireland now wanted, he declared, was a firm, liberal and kindly Government. If only Mr. Gladstone ab-stained from advocating impossible legislative reme-dies, Mr. Balfour was confident that a permanent cure of the Irish troubles was effected.

THE CASE OF MURPHY AND MIGREEVY.

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—The impression prevails among the officers of the Department of Justice that R. H. McGreevy and O. E. Murphy can be extradited for the offences with which they are charged-conspiracy and false pretences. In the extradition treaty Great Britain and the United States, passed on July 12, 1889, and proclaimed on March 25, 1890, there is one paragraph which is thought to be applicable to the case of either of the accused. But it is considered unlikely that the United States would grant the extradition, as the pica would be set up that the men were wanted for political offences.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR LITTLE MOTHERS.

The Thanksgiving festival given to the children yes terday afternoon by the Little Mothers' Aid Society at Nilsson Hall, No. 128 East Fifteenth-st., although coming two days late, was none the less plensing to the little folks. About 700 children, whose age ranged frop six to fifteen years, were present to enjoy the festivities. The exercises consisted of humorous selections by one of the women in attendance, recitations by some of the little girls, instrumental music by an amateur orchestra, singing by the Misses John ston and Robinson, and the singing of ballads by the whole juvenile chorus. TO OPEN THE FEAST OF LANTERNS.

AN EXCITING CONTEST LOOKED FOR AT THE COMING FAIR.

A fair called "The Feast of the Lanterns," under the auspices of the Women's Gulld of the Homoeopatisle Medical College, will open in the Lenox Lyceum, at Madison-ave, and Fifty-ninth-st., to-morrow at 2 p. m. and will continue for two wooks, from 2 to 10 p. m. daily. The proceeds will be devoted to the erection of a medical pavilion, and to aid in the work of the guild. Gifts of money, groceries, and articles of every description will be thankfully received, and a list of givers will be published at the close of the fair. They should be sent to the officers of the Guild or the Executive Committee of the fair. There will be a department managed by the Daughters of the Guild, n association of young women who have assisted the Women's Gulld by visiting the sick, supplying them with flowers and giving efficient services in many ways in the hospital work.

There will be a restaurant where appetizing functions, dinners and suppers will be served at reasonable prices. An attractive feature of the restaurant will be a genuine New-England supper of the olden time; also, a Southern supper of plantation days. On Saturday afternoons a special entertainment will be provided for children. Three years ago the women's Guild raised $17,000, which was applied toward the purchase of land in Avenue A, between Sixty-third and Sixty-fourth sts., upon which was subsequently erected the New-York Homocopathic Medical College and a surgical pavillon. Hundreds of poor patients have been treated here free and the constant demands for help are a proof of the value of the work that has been done and the need of a medical pavilion, comprising a male, a female, a children's ward and a maternity ward, is daily more apprent.

The officers of the Guild are: President, Mrs. Henry

Thompson; vice-presidents, Mrs. Roswell P. Flower, Mrs. J. D. Archbold, Mrs. Charles Watrous, Mrs. S. P. Embury, Mrs. T. C. Platt, Mrs C. D. Lanier, Mrs. M. L. Thomas, Mrs. I. S. Platt, Mrs. C. J. Canda and Mrs. Mortimer Fargo; treasurer, Mrs. C. E. Cambell. No. 214 East Elgateenth-st.; corresponding secretary, Mrs. G. H. Smith; recording secretary, Mrs. S. F. Wilcox. The executive committee of the fair is as follows: J. G. Cannon, chairman; Mrs. Abner C. Thomas; Mrs. William Tod Helmuth, Mrs. Homer I. Ostrom, Mrs. P. D. P. Ricketts, Mrs. Jacob Hess, Mrs. C. E. Campbell, Mrs. William McDonald, Mrs. Henry Thompson, E. H. Weatherbee, Judge Rufus B. Cowing, R. C. Jackson, G. F. Hodgman, E. M. Brown and Professor P. De P. Ricketts. Treasurer of the fair, Charles S. Ticket committee, Mrs. William Tod Helmuth, Mrs. Abner C. Homas and Mrs. A. M. Palmer, of Stamford, Conn.; decoration committee, Mrs. Eugene Clarke, Mrs. James R. Franklin and Mrs. Blodgett; press committee, Mrs. Joseph Howard, jr.

Among the attractions will be a child's bed, a production of those in use in the children's ward of the Flower Tree Hospital. It is to be named for the child who receives the largest number of votes during the fair, and will be placed in the pavilion. In great part this bedstead and its fittings have been given by children, though they have been generously aided by older friends. Among the first to respond to the appeal of the little ones was President Harrison's wife, who in the name of her grandson made a gift of money and sent with her gift a fine photograph of Benjamin Harrison McKee. Mr. Knoedler, of Fitth-ave., has framed this picture, with that of Gladys Edgarion, daughter of Leutenant Edgarton, of West Point, and granddaughter of Dr. William Tod Helmuth; Nancy Barnum Lee, great-granddaughter of P. T. Barnum, the friend of all children; Abel Cary Thomas, the grandson of Mrs. M. Louise Thomas, expressident of Sorosis, and nephew of Alice and Physilis Langworthy Palmer, daughter of A. M. Palmer. Accompanying the bed is a bathtub, a duplicate of one used by Ruth Cleveland. Mrs. May Riley Smith, of Colorado, whom women know as the author of "Tired Mothers" and "Sometime," has contributed liberally in the name of her son, Clarence Smith. Miss Ethel Thomas will have charge of the bed during the fair, as the idea originated with her. part this bedstead and its fittings have been given by

THIS WAS INDEED A FRIENDLY DOG.

IT ANSWERED TO EITHER NAME AND SADLY PERPLEXED JUSTICE HOGAN.

G. F. Leihinkuhr, eigar dealer, at No. 10 Newtonst., appeared in Jefferson Market Court yesterday in iswer to a summons served on him by Mrs. Sarah Holt, of No. 74 Barrow-st., who accused Leihinkula of having in his possession a mastiff which was stolen from her in August last. 'Leihinkuhr brought the dog into court, and declared that it was only eleven months old, and that he had owned it since last

Mrs. Holt pointed out a number of marks on the dog's body, and said that the dog was seven years old, and was purchased by her three years ago from a Dr. Kintau, of Paterson, for $100.

Justice Hogan was in doubt as to who really owned he dog. The animal was as friendly to every one else n the court room as it was to the rival claimants. Mrs. Holt called the dog "Scott" and Leihinkuhr called it Prince," and the dog answered to both names Hero Holzborn, a dog-fancler at No. 299 Eleeckert., was called as a witness by Leihinkuhr. He testied that the dog was born on December 25 last, and that the mother was still in his possession. Holzborn sent for the mother. When the two dogs met they miffed at each other, and then the dog which Holzborn said was the mother turned her back on the ther dog and went over in a corner and went to sleep. On examining the two dogs it was found that they were marked in the same manner.

Justice Hogan withheld his decision and adjourned the case until Wednesday to enable Mrs. Holt to bring witnesses to court to prove her ownership of the dog.

TEA AT THE WOMAN'S PRESS CLUB. The monthly ten of the New-York Woman's Press

AN AMHERST COLLEGE NIGHT.

The Anherst men in the vicinity of New-York and Brooklyn are planning to make to-morrow night, in the college series at the Young Men's Christian Association, No. 602 Fulton-st., Brooklyn, the best college night which has een held. There is a large representation in the two cities of Amherst men, and they will probably have a large and in-terested gathering. The subject for the address is: "Archerst as She 1s-Commercially, Socially, Financially, Morally." The speakers are Herbert L. Bridgman, Amherst, '66. Bradford W. Hitchcock, Amherst, '81; Frank H. Parsons, Amherst, '81, and the Rev. Howard S. Bliss, Amherst, '82. The meeting is designed especially for the younger alumni, that is, from '81 down, but no Amherst man is to be excluded. The probability is that after this regular meeting ndttee will be appointed to consider the advisability of forming a young alumni association, embracing the years from 'S1 to '91. The meeting therefore has an importance apart from its social character.

MUSICAL NOTES.

A notable affair will be the concert of the German Liederkranz in the Music Hall this evening. As a rule the concerts of the society are given in its own hall, and are for the entertainment exclusively of the members of the club and invited guests. So great is the membership, however, and the popularity which the concerts have won that the officers resolved to give the first concert this senson in the Music Hall, and invite public participation. Mr. Paderewski, Miss Emma Juch, Miss Olivia Fremstadt, Emil Fischer, Robert Kaufmann and the Symphony Orchestra will assist the chorus of the society, and Mr. Zoellner will conduct. The programme will consist of a cantata and fugue for double chorus, orchestra and organ by Bach, which, it is said, has never been sung in America; an arrange ment of Schubert's Scrennde for female chorus, contraito solo and orchestra; Mr. Zoellner's cantata, "Columbus," and solos for Miss Juch and Mr. Paderewski.

The occasion will be an interesting one, not only on this account and the brilliancy of the andience expected, but from general sympathy for the object and the fact that the spigers—all pupils of Miss Green—though amateurs, will sing himbers reluctantly attempted by accomplished profes—anals. JURGENS DID NOT RUN AWAY.

PRESIDENT HELMAN KNEW HE WAS GOING-AFFAIRS OF THE FDEN MUSEE. The report that Ernest Jurgens, formerly manager

t the Eden Musee, had fled from the country because of the deficit in his accounts was emphatically denied at the Musee yesterday. The president, Theodore Hellman, said that he knew that Mr. Jurgens was going abroad and approved his going. He went because he was broken down and could not bear to meet his old friends, and also to see some rich relatives, from whom he hoped that he could get advances of money to make up his share of the sum wanting in the accounts of the Musee. He had a pass by one of the French steamers and he salled three days before Mr. Hellman expected that he would, leaving a letter for Mr. Hellman, saying that he was obliged to go at once because he found that his pass would not be good for any other steamer and he had no money to pay his passage. On the night before he sailed he was at the Musee till 11 o'clock, and he had done all that he could do to help in the straightening up of the accounts.

Mr. Heliman went on to say that he did not regard what Mr. Jurgens had done as strictly a defalcation. The business manager, Frank M. Reynolds, had the handling of all the money. Whenever Mr. Jurgens got any from him he gave Mr. Keynolds a due bill for the amount, which Mr. Reynolds turned in as cash These due bills, Mr. Hellman said, actually represented rather more than what he thought was Mr. Jurgens's share of the deficit. Mr. Hellman said that it was not true that he had stopped payment on all checks from the Musee. He had done so only with those issued while Mr. Jurgens was manager, that he might have time for the books to be made up and everything to be put in good order. The total amount of all such checks would be not over $700. As to the financial condition of the company, he said that there was now $3,200 in the bank and several applications had recently been made for stock at par, but there was not stock to be had.

FOR IMPRISONING AN AMERICAN CONSUL.

OCCAR HATFIELD'S CLAIM AGAINST THE NETHER

LANDS FOR $500,000. The claim for indemnity put in by the United State Minister at The Hague, under instructions from this Government, on behalf of Oscar Hatfield, for $500,000 damages for losses sustained by him while unjustly imprisoned by the authorities of Netherlands India during his Consulship there, is, according to a statement made by Mr. Hatfield, being pushed to a settlement. Mr. Hatfield was seen last evening by a Tribune reporter at No. 37 West Twenty-seventh st., and gave the following account of his imprisamment:

"I was for many years United States Consul at Batavia, Java. While holding this office I was allowed by this Government to engage in private business. In 1887 I was arrested by the authorities of Netherlands India, and accused of being an accomplice in a breach of trust supposed to have been committed by a Dutch merchant against his partners in a firm established at Batavia. My imprisonment extended over a period of eight or nine months, during which time I was sub jected to many indignities and insults. My private correspondence was opened and read before delivery and my property seized and sold for alleged debts, proofs of which have never been established.

"Finally I was liberated, no evidence having been found against me. I immediately returned to the United States and made appeal to the State Department at Washington. Secretary Bayard, upon learning the facts in the case, dispatched H. G. Wood, a special State Department official, to Java, and the result of his investigations proved that I had been most injuriously dealt with."

The outcome of the investigations by the State Depariment was the above-mentioned claim. Mr. Hatfield said that Secretary Blaine had Instructed the United States Minister at The Hague to bring the matter to a termination. Mr. Hattield is well known in Newand Washington. He also has many etherlands. He asserts that his case e, and that the honor of the United States is at stake ads for years in the building No. 341 East Eleventh-st fell from the fourth story to the basement yesterday when only a boy was on it. In the morning several loads of lumber were lifted from the level of the sidewalk to the workcoms of M. Crystal & Co., manufacturers of folding-beds, who occupy the second, third and fourth stories. Rudolph Menke, sixteen years old, who worked for a firm of job printers on the top floor, was running the elevator. Half an hour before noon a driver in the employ of M. Crystal & Co. called to Menke to bring the elevator down to the first floor. The boy was on the civator at the fourth floor at the time. He pulled the governing-rape, and the clevator instantly fell to the bottom of the shaft with a crash. The boy was picked up senseless and blooding, and an ambulance was called to carry him to Bellevue Hospital. He had received internal injuries that were likely to cause his death, the surgeons said. His home was in Eighty-fourth-st., octween First and Second aves. An examination of the elevator showed that the cables which supported it had not broken, but the ends had slipped out of an iron swivel by which they were attached to the heavy cross-beam at the top of the car. It was singular that such an accident occurred when the elevator was not loaded

SCANDAL IN RUTGERS FEMALE COLLEGE.

MR3. E. S. WEST, THE LADY PRINCIPAL, LEAVES

HER OFFICE UNDER A CLOUD. Rutgers Female College, in West Fifty-fifth-st., is again the victim of misplaced confidence. About twenty years ago, the Rev. Dr. Pearce, then president of the institution, was detected in speculating with the college funds, and compelled to retire. His scheme was based on the idea that by the purchase of certain uptown lots and waiting for a rise he would be enabled to make large sums of money for the college and incidentally a fortune for himself. The lots did increase in value in the progress of time, thus establishing the correctness of his speculative judgment; but the irregularity of his methods neutralized all benefits that might have occurred to himself or the instit from he represented. The case is still in litigate tion, and confidence is expressed that the college fund will be reimbursed.

The latest exposure involves the good name of Mrs. E. S. West, who for nearly six years has held the place of indy principal of the school. It is alleged that by system of deceptions she has been enabled to collect fees for tuition and to appropriate to her own use sum aggregating about $3,000. Mrs. West was the wife of a former drygoods merchant in West Brondway, whose business record is said to have been honorable, though not entirely successful. Several years ago he was afflicted with paraiysts and was compelled to retire from active employment. His wife at that time applied for the place of lady principal of the college, which was vacant. The late Rev. Dr. Samuel D. Burchard was then president, and though the woman offered no credentials, she was assigned to duty. Her husband and two daughters, nearly of quite full-grown, lived with her in the college building until Mr. West became so enfeebled as to render it necessary to make other provisions for him. A brother hood connected with the Protestant Episcopal Church finally took charge of him in a private hospital, and he was tenderly cared for, not as a charity patient, as has been alleged. A regular allowance was mde for

His widow continued in her place until the latter part of October, when she was dismissed by the Board of Managers of the college after admitting the charge of peculations which had been brought against her. of Managers of the college after admitting set of peculations which had been brought against her. The irregularities were discovered by the Rev. Dr. A. W. Ferris, who was elected treasurer of the college in January of the present year. Mr. West it is said, is a woman of pleasing personality and of professed plety, and her confession of guilt was a shock to her associates. The trustees of the college were disposed to deal charitably with the case, and they express much regret at the exposure. Even after Dr. Ferris, as treasurer, had begun to suspect that something was wrong, it is said that the woman for a time baffied his investigations by the coolness with which she schemed to check his movements. It is alleged that in the extremity of her position she resorted to the opening of lotters addressed to the treasurer by persons to whom that official had written, calling for ettlement of accounts which had long before been adjusted through the hands of the lady principal.

Mrs. West is about fifty-five years old. Her hashand, to whom she was married nearly thirty years ago, was many years her sealor.

From the evidence it appears that the club was organized only a month ago by seventeen young men. A dollar for initiation was charged and the dues were 25 cents a veck, One of the tules of the club was that no member could bring an outsider into the clubroom. This rule was violated by O'Donnell last Tuesday night affil he was fined 25 cents. O'Donnell objected and debated upon the matter, and left it to be decided by a vote. The members decided that the fine was just, O'Donnell then tendered his passenger station in the city of New-York.
